

Howard Shergalis, RA, LEED AP

PRINCIPAL, SENIOR LIVING DIRECTOR

Howard brings a wealth of leadership experience in managing complex and multi-use projects for clients. He is skilled at working with a patchwork of stakeholders in the form of agency boards, committees, volunteers and staff to develop a shared vision of the project. Among Howard's strengths is his ability to anchor the collective vision in the realities of architectural technology, budget, schedule and government regulations. Howard's success in project management, budgeting and quality control adds value to each project. A strong advocate of green and sustainable planning, Howard promotes a collaborative process to focus the knowledge and resources of the design team toward creating an effective design solution.

Howard has more than thirty years of experience in master planning and architectural design of senior living communities, housing and mixed-use campuses. He is a regular guest speaker at state and national conferences on the advancement of quality senior living facilities through innovative design.
