

Margaret Kavourias, AICP

DIRECTOR OF PLACEMAKING

Margaret's talent and leadership qualities are key elements in the continued growth of RDL Architects' multidiscipline practice. Her depth of experience involves working with clients to develop master plans and recommend policies for managing land use, physical facilities and associated services.

As the primary facilitator of our Charrette process for master planning, Margaret creatively illustrates best practices and efficient design for project success. As placemaking director, Margaret manages the LIHTC application process and teams across multiple states, coordinating all of the application requirements needed to ensure accurate and timely submissions.

Margaret has been a guest lecturer at The Ohio State University, Cleveland State University, the AHF Live! Conference, the American Planning Association (APA) Northeast Ohio Planning & Zoning Workshop and the OKI Conference.

EDUCATION

WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY IN
ST. LOUIS

Master of Urban Design

UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI

Bachelor of Urban Planning

PROFESSIONAL CREDENTIALS

American Planning Association
Member

Urban Land Institute Member

Margaret's specialties as project planner include:

- Accessibility standards
- Community security and safety standards
- Usage of "Green" sustaining principles in community planning
- Evaluating possible effects of the building's presence within the natural environment
- Efficient linkage of infrastructure, buildings and community spaces